Yeah Goldie, but you have wings! I have an engine! Do you even know why you have to flap your wings so hard to fly?

A cartoon rocket with a grey body, orange nose cone, and orange fins. The word "NANO" is written vertically on its side. It has a surprised facial expression with wide eyes and an open mouth.

Well, I mean, I guess I never really thought about it.

A small yellow bird with a black face, red beak, and large black wings, perched on a brown branch. It has a thoughtful or slightly sheepish expression.

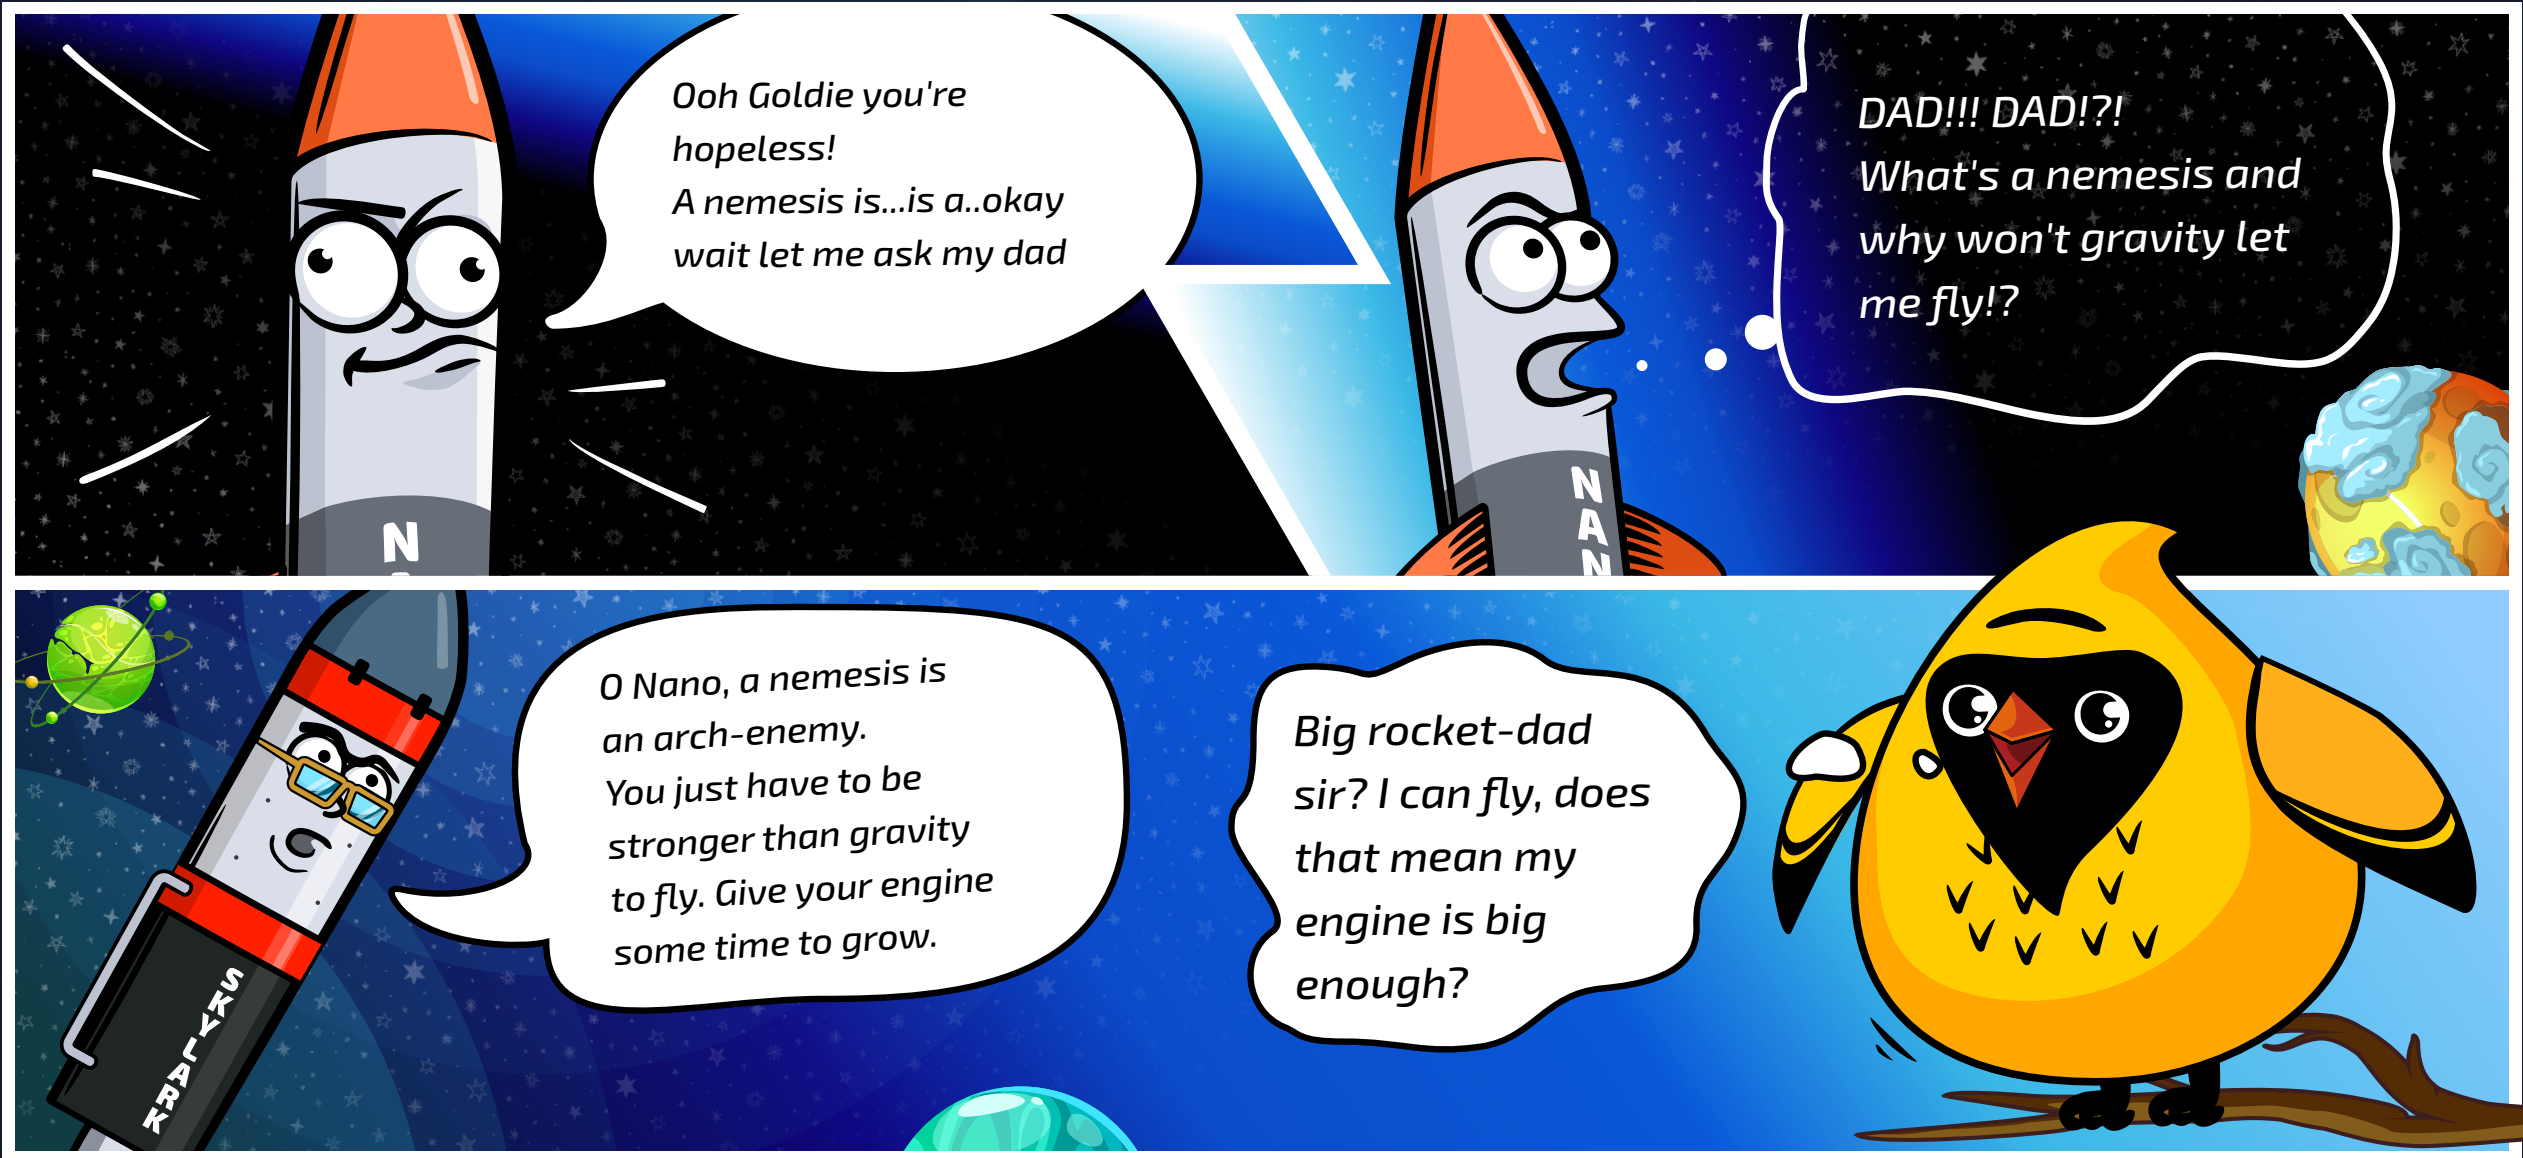

Uh Goldie, let me explain. You and I have a nemesis called gravity!

A cartoon rocket with a grey body, orange nose cone, and orange fins. The word "OZAZ" is written vertically on its side. It has a grumpy facial expression with slanted eyes and a downturned mouth.

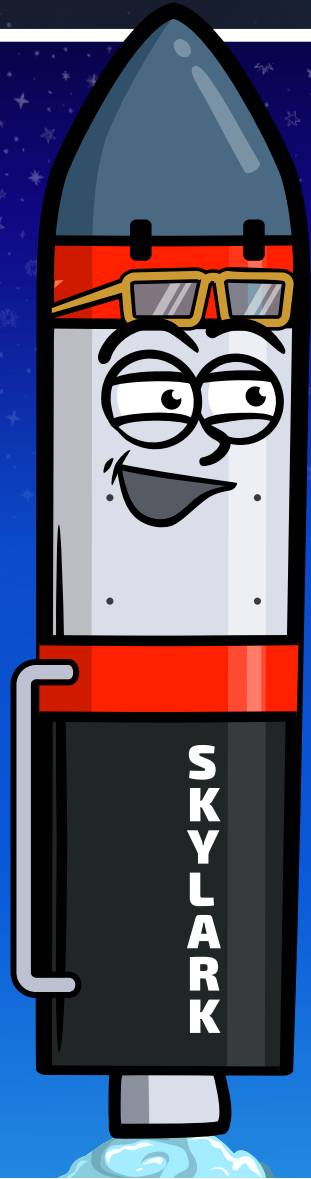

I have a nemesis? Wow...Ne-me-sis. Wait what's a nemesis?

O Goldie! It's your wings that flap harder than gravity to lift you off the ground. You don't have an engine

My wings are stronger than gravity! Did you hear that Nano? I beat my nemesis. I can fly!

Wait, let me try again!

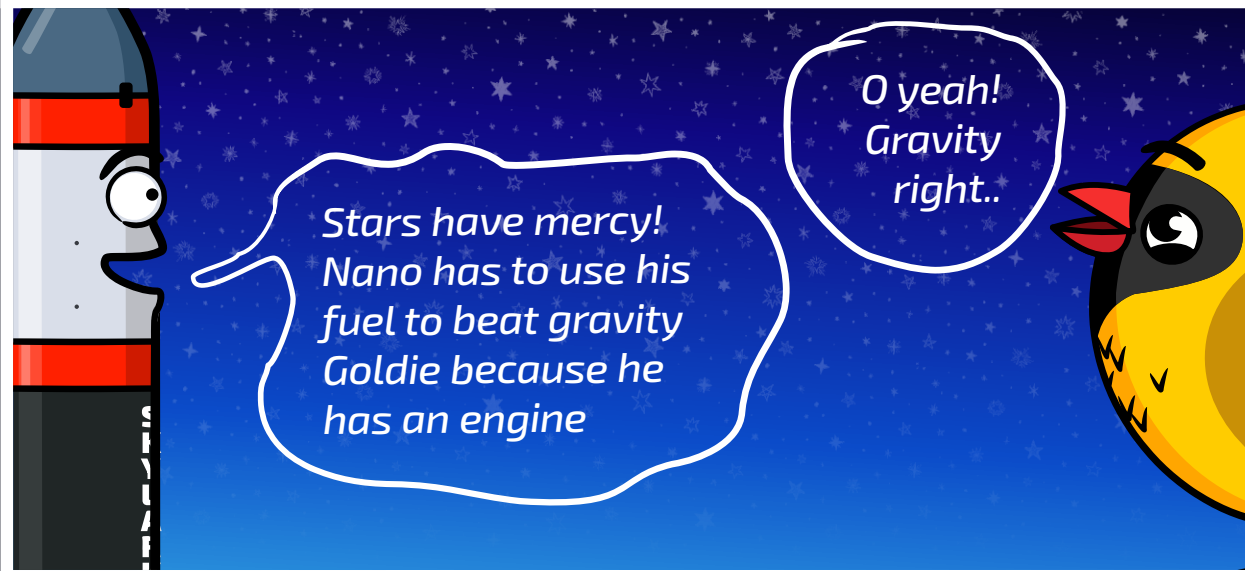

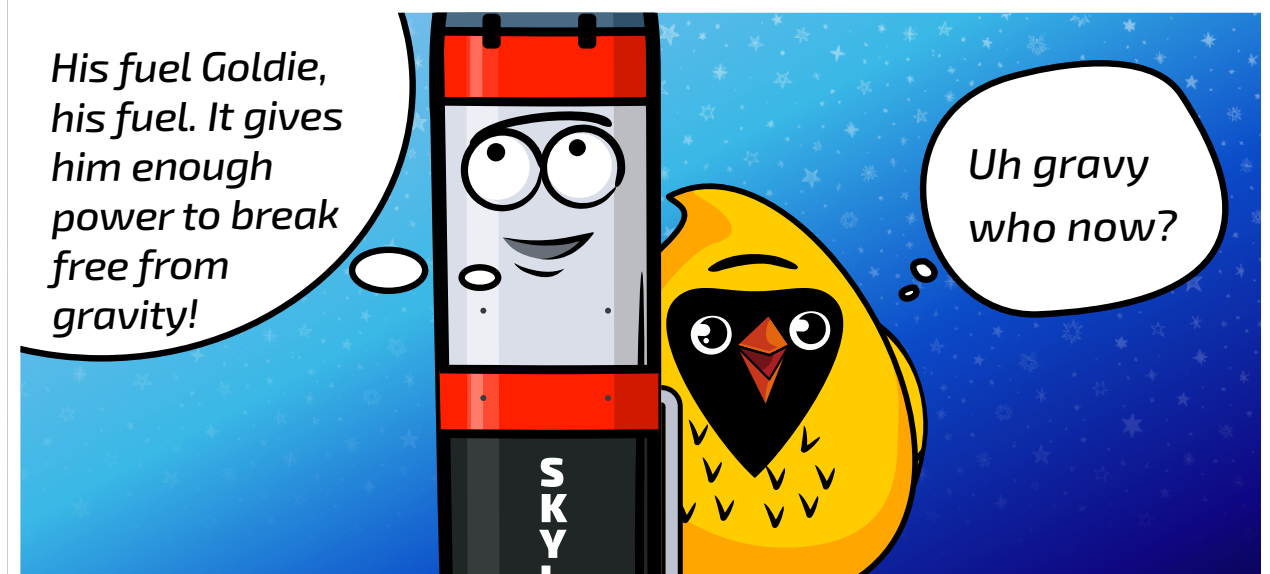

No, I won't let you fly so easily Nano! I'll send my gravity henchmen to pull to the ground
